OF THE COMMUNITY

Second Sunday after Trinity

With thanks to our Men's Choir for singing today

Intercessions

Unfortunately, Nicola Stingelin-Giles who was supposed to be leading our intercessions today has been taken ill. We will remember her in our prayers today and wish her a speedy recovery. Bernadette Clark has kindly offered to step in.

Compline

Tonight at 6.30pm

This contemplative plainchant service will be sung by the Choristers' Mums' Choir. It is not an easy undertaking. If you have never attended before, why not give it a try? You will show your support for the choristers' mums' hard work and your presence may just calm their nerves!

Singing Success

Congratulations to Claudia and Elsie, two of the youngest members of our Girls' Choir (both 8 years old), who have each passed ABRSM Grade 2 Singing Performance with Merit. Entered as members of our choir, we are delighted that they have this first singing examination achievement under their belts (or should that be cassocks?).

Books for Buckets!

Barbara Walmsley is setting up a collection point for unwanted books to go to the very successful Oxfam book and music shop in Cheltenham who were delighted to receive Charles's books. They are very happy to be given any kind of book and will sell them in the shop or online. The sale of the average paperback will pay for an Oxfam bucket to be given out in refugee camps to help keep water safe. Contact Barbara on barbarawalmsley78@gmail.com or ring 01628-522255. The collection point is at Spindlewood, High Road, Cookham SL6 9JT. Please do not leave books at church or in the Parish Centre. Thank you.
