Rev'd Sophie writes: New Beginnings

Have you begun thinking about your New Year's resolution for 2026? Will you wait for the clock to strike midnight on the 31st of December, ready to begin a new habit, a new routine, perhaps a new diet after the feast of Christmas? Did you make a resolution this year — and how long did it last?

Many people use the beginning of the calendar year to set goals for self-improvement, often around health, finances, relationships, or personal growth. Yet studies suggest that by February, 80% of these resolutions have already been broken, with the second Friday in January even dubbed "Quitters' Day". Too often, resolutions are vague or unrealistic, made with the best-case scenario in mind rather than acknowledging the days when we are tired, overwhelmed, or struggling. We imagine ourselves at our most energetic and determined, but rarely plan for the moments when life feels heavy.

And yet, year after year, people return to this tradition. The practice of making resolutions may even stretch back thousands of years. The Babylonians are thought to have made promises to their gods at the start of each year, pledging to return borrowed items or pay their debts. The Romans honoured Janus, the god of beginnings and transitions, whose two faces looked both backward and forward. In many ways, our modern resolutions echo these ancient practices: we look back at what we wish had been different, and forward to what we hope might change. The turning of the calendar gives us the sense of a "fresh start," motivating us to see the 1st of January as a new beginning.

Psychologists call this the "fresh start effect." A new date, a new season, even a birthday can give us the feeling of a clean slate. It inspires us to set goals and imagine change. But the difficulty lies in sustaining that change. Resolutions often rely on sheer willpower, and when willpower falters, we feel we have failed. What is missing is grace — the ability to begin again, even after stumbling. Without grace, resolutions can feel like a burden rather than a gift.

The Church calendar invites us to mark time differently. Advent, beginning on the fourth Sunday before Christmas, marks the start of the Church's year. This year, on the 30th of November, we enter a new lectionary cycle, with Matthew's Gospel guiding our Sunday readings. Deeply rooted in its Hebrew origins, Matthew's Gospel carries a central theme: promise and fulfilment.

Matthew begins with a genealogy, tracing Jesus' lineage back through Israel's history. It is a reminder that the story of Christ is not a sudden break, but the fulfilment of God's promises across generations. Time in Matthew's Gospel is not simply about new beginnings, but about God's faithfulness. The Sermon on the Mount, the parables, and the passion narrative all point to a God who keeps promises and brings them to completion in Christ. The promise of the coming of God's kingdom, where justice, love, and grace will reign for all creation.

For us, this means that every new beginning is not isolated, but part of God's unfolding story. A story that we are invited to join in once again. Not with fireworks, but with a single candle lit on a wreath as we remember those who came before us.

Advent opens the new year not with hurried resolutions, but by inviting us into a period of reflection and preparation. It is a season of waiting and watching, of hope and promise. Not a passive waiting, as an audience waiting to see a show, but an active waiting, a preparation, as we wait for the curtains to open. Advent is like preparing a home for a guest: tidying, setting the table, lighting candles. We prepare not out of duty, but out of love and anticipation.

Active waiting means shaping our lives in anticipation. Just as a theatre audience leans forward as the curtain begins to rise, Advent invites us to lean forward into God's promise.

The midnight countdown on the 31st of December may inspire us to change, but the quiet candles of Advent invite us to be transformed. We are invited to slow down, to reflect, and to prepare our hearts. We prepare by prayer, by acts of kindness, by listening more attentively to Scripture. We prepare by noticing where God is already at work, and by opening ourselves to be part of God kingdom at work in the world.

This preparation is not only for December. It sets the rhythm for the whole year ahead. Advent teaches us to begin with reflection, to root our resolutions not in fleeting determination but in God's enduring promise. Advent is our rehearsal for living the rest of the year with hope, courage, and joy.

So as we step into this new year, may your resolutions not depend on perfection, but on grace. May Advent be your true new beginning — a season that sets the rhythm for the year ahead, rooted in God's promise and fulfilled in Christ.

Rev'd Sophie

Parish Giving Scheme

We are very grateful for all giving to the church, without your support there would be no church. Thank you!

If you regularly put cash in the plate or using the card reader, have you considered the Parish Giving Scheme as an alternative method of giving?

It's very easy to sign up to a regular amount that would suit you. There's an option for an annual increase to be linked to inflation, but you can always have the option to change the amount at any time.

Bonus for you—you can forget needing to bring cash or a card to church.

Bonus for the church—less admin and counting, and, if you're a tax payer, Gift Aid will be claimed by the central organisers and passed to the church a few days after your payment.

If you are interested in giving in this way, please speak to either of our treasurers, Ros Hazeldine or Tim Sharples or visit www.parishgiving.org.uk

Trinity Talks Monday, 19 January The Bahamas - a personal perspective

Richard Poad's ancestors arrived the Bahamas in the late 18th century, so this country of 700 islands is part of his DNA. His talk will range from Columbus to rum- and drug-running - not to mention the Duke of Windsor, sent there as Governor to get him out of the way during World War II. Richard's personal perspective will touch on topics that never make the travel pages of the weekend newspapers.

Trinity Talks are held monthly at Bel and The Dragon in Cookham High Street. They celebrate the talents of people living in Cookham and its environs and raise funds for Holy Trinity Church.

Everyone is welcome, but capacity is limited, so it is advisable to check in advance. When reserving your place at £20 each by phone on 01628 527465 or email stephaniediggon@hotmail.com, please let me know of any food allergies. Pay cash on arrival from 6.30pm (for Prosecco and canapés). Talks start at 7pm and finish around 8pm.

SHOE BOX APPEAL 2025

Hello Everyone,

Wow, I want to Thank You All SO Much, for filling a Shoebox again this year. And a big Thank You to Miss Smith, the Head of Holy Trinity School, who encouraged lots of her children to fill boxes too.

I delivered 96 boxes in total, to the Blythwood Care collection point, and they were absolutely overjoyed with our efforts.

So, Thank You All again. This year they are being delivered to Ukraine and Kosovo.

When I receive some brochures with photos of folk receiving their Christmas boxes, I will put them on the table in the churches, for you to see the delight on everyone's faces. It is very rewarding.

Wishing You All a Peaceful Christmas,

With Love, JILL CRUSE

TREASURER NEEDED

HOLY TRINITY CHURCH, COOKHAM

Would you like to use your skills to make a real difference in your community?

We are looking for a Treasurer to help guide our church's finances with care and integrity.

This is a rewarding voluntary role supporting a friendly team in a Church of England parish that is also a registered charity. You will help with bookkeeping, simple reporting, and preparing annual accounts for the Charity Commission. An honorarium may be available to recognise the time and responsibility involved.

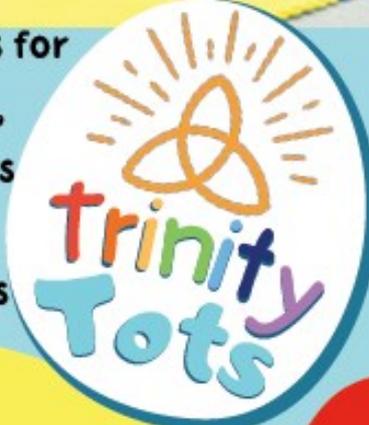

You do not need to be an accountant – just organised, trustworthy, and comfortable with spreadsheets or basic accounts software.

Training and support are provided. If you have a tidy mind, a kind heart, and a desire to serve your community, we would love to hear from you.

Please contact Father Stephen Mills at vicarofthecookhams@outlook.com for an informal chat (and a strong cup of tea!). Come and help Holy Trinity, Cookham flourish – your contribution will truly make a difference.

The London Welsh Male Voice Choir

What a truly wonderful celebration of choral singing from The London Welsh Male Voice Choir on November 1st!

Over 300 people filled the church and were treated to a very special night commencing with 'March of the Men of Harlech' as the choir walked through the audience to take their places on the raised stage.

The concert was given to support Elizabeth House and Holy Trinity Church and was the brainchild of Geraint Lewis who, in his 90th year, wished to make a contribution to the local community he loves so much. Geraint's rendition of 'Myfanwy' was a particularly poignant moment in the concert.

Thanks to his personal sponsorship of the evening over £8,000 was raised on behalf of the two chosen charities.

Music, Children, Young People and Church

Everyone, regardless of age, is welcome at all our services.

Here are the special facilities for younger people.

Holy Trinity, Cookham

Choirs

Youth Choir – open to any keen young singer, aged 8 and above. Choristers attend a weekly practice (Tuesdays, 6.30-7.05pm) and one, sometimes two, Sunday services a month. No special equipment or financial outlay needed. Choristers receive 'pay', based on attendance, at the end of each term.

Choristers' Mums' Choir – originally set up as an opportunity for choristers' mums to sing too, recently we have welcomed ex-choristers who have moved back to the area. With this widening of eligibility, we would be pleased to hear from ladies who might wish to sing with this friendly group. Practices: Wednesday, 6.55-7.30pm; one, sometimes two, Sunday services a month.

Alter Chorum – a choir for ladies aged 60+. Open to willing new recruits who would like to enjoy good company and joyful singing. Practices every other Tuesday, 5.50-6.25pm; one Sunday service every six weeks.

Men's Choir – Practices: Wednesday evening or Saturday morning; usually three Sunday services a month. Alto, tenor and bass voice-parts. Due to the difficulty of the music and the speed at which the choir works, very proficient sight-reading ability is necessary to thrive in this hard-working group.

Please contact Sara Wood (Director of Music) should you be interested in finding out about becoming a member of one of our choirs: sarawood44@hotmail.com

Birds of the Bible

Well obviously, the avian choice for this month has to be the Turkey; but hard as one might try, you won't find reference to such a creature in the bible! Of the 30 or so species we can choose from, one does however come to mind. With Christmas we celebrate the One who humbled himself for us, so what could be more appropriate than the humble Sparrow!

In Hebrew, Sparrows would normally be included within the term 'Tziporah' which occurs over forty times, but in fact this refers to almost any small bird. 'Sparrow' however appears on just six occasions, including Matthew 8:29 where Jesus Himself indicates that, despite the bird's 'lowly' status, God cares for each one of them. But even here we see the birds were being sold, for just a half-penny piece; why? For food. They were part of the staple diet for the poor. And Jesus' teaching is that, if God cares for even each of these, how much more does He care for us. (Still today, millions of small migrating birds such as Sparrows are trapped in lime on Mediterranean coastal hedges for serving at local cafes!)

Most bible translations of Psalm 84:3 opt for 'Sparrow', indicating the provision made for them to nest and raise their young and relating that to God's even greater care for us.

But what sort of Sparrow are we talking about in Israel? Spanish Sparrow is resident but mainly a bird of open countryside rather than domestic environments. And guess where the Dead Sea Sparrow might be found? Then there are Rock Sparrows occupying the mountain tops and migrant species include Pale Rock Sparrow. But prominent among all these is the humble House Sparrow (Passer domesticus), an abundant resident of domestic settings across the bible lands, as it is indeed here in our own 'Green and Pleasant land'.

Therefore, I would like to think this is the one referred to in the scriptures. But how is it doing here? Regrettably, UK numbers have declined some 60% in recent decades. A recent study in London found five whole boroughs with no records at all! This was reflected in the all-Berkshire survey for our latest County Bird Atlas, with dramatic declines in both rural and town environments, where 'neat' gardens and modern house design includes little facility for this bird of simple needs. (I did though once count c125 on feeders here at Broomhill Mansions!)

So, what could our Christmas present be to this diminutive but, in God's eyes, important species? Why not use January to plan a 'Wild About Gardens' make-over, a scheme WildCookham has been promoting for all its decade of existence. Give the mower a rest to allow some grass to do what it is designed to do.

So much to celebrate

Tackling the (already for many) catastrophic impacts of climate change and the loss of so much of our natural world can feel like a lost cause sometimes. So it's important to remember all the positive steps people are taking to ensure we have a world that's safe for future generations.

Looking back over the past year, WildCookham has much to celebrate. The Water Voles we re-introduced several years ago to the home of The Wind in the Willows are doing well; the work of recent years to bring back a wider range of wild flowers and insects to our local Commons is paying dividends with more colour and sand species on several of the Commons; new hedgerows have been put in to help restore some of the 300,000 miles of these crucial habitats destroyed in recent decades; plans are in place for new ponds, a key habitat for wildlife; our input to local government keeps up the pressure to address the environment and climate emergency; and a growing number of residents want to encourage wildlife on their land and are seeking our support. Add to that those using our walks and talks to increase awareness, as well as the many residents who are helping us with all this work, and you get a sense that maybe, just maybe, we really can make a difference.

One individual whose contribution we have celebrated is Lynne Peperell. Lynne was a founder member of Cookham Wildlife Supporters, our original name. Her energy and commitment have supported us in so many ways, but notably in organising many of our events and, most especially, in helping to run our Wildlife Gardens Awards. We said a fond farewell to Lynne at a party for volunteers in November and wish her and Richard well in their new life away from Cookham.

As we enter 2026 we are busy with longer term planning to help us focus on the main challenges. We see these as working with landowners to save as much of our local land as possible for nature and involving the whole community in this work. Watch out for more news of this. Meanwhile, here's one thing you can do: join in with the RSPB Big Garden Birdwatch in January: it's a great way to see what's in your garden – and to get children involved. All you need to know is at <https://www.rspb.org.uk/whats-happening/big-garden-birdwatch>.

If you can spare a little time for nature, drop a note to wildcookham@gmail.com or call 07739 337105. Look out for upcoming events at www.meetup.com/wildcookham. Keep in touch via wildcookham@gmail.com and on Facebook/Instagram. And have a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Mike Copland

Create some 'messy' corners. Provide a water feature and perhaps install some Sparrow nest boxes (they are colonial nesters).

We will shortly be celebrating the coming of our Saviour. Let us value these diminutive creatures as He values us!

Advent 2025

'The Weary World Rejoices'

You are warmly invited to join the Methodist Church at 2.30 p.m. on Wednesdays November 26th, December 3rd, 10th, 17th, meeting in the church for our Advent reflections.

The famous Christmas Carol "O Holy Night" contains the line: "A thrill of hope! The weary world rejoices." As we enter the Advent season, do you feel weary? If so, you are not alone. You could even say that being weary and worn out is an acceptable place from which to approach this Advent season, because Advent reminds us that while we cannot ignore the troubles of the world, or our own pain and sorrow, the hope of Christmas isn't far away.

Malachi was the last Old Testament Prophet, and for 500 years after that, God appeared to the people of Israel to be silent. Did they cry out, wondering how long it would be before their hope, their salvation arrived? Although he may have felt far away to them, God was planning the most unexpected response to the needs of the world - the coming of Jesus.

Over the four weeks of Advent, we'll reflect on four perspectives of those present at the nativity scene.

Methodist Minister Vicci writes:

Friends,

Sheila Cassidy writes in the book: Confessions of a lapsed Catholic – “Christian society in Britain has domesticated the Gospel. It is geared to loving God in moderation. We may give alms to the poor, visit the sick and the lonely, hold annual bazaars and flag days for those in need – in fact do any good works that do not threaten the pattern of our society. But to demand justice at the expense of people’s comfort of security – that makes us troublemakers.”

Well you can decide for yourself whether or not you think she’s right. But we have domesticated our thoughts about angels. We make cutesy little figurines, we put on annual plays in which tiny little four year olds in white pillow cases, with a sprinkling of silver tinsel stand before the congregations and proclaim with varying levels of confidence “You don’t need to be afraid”. No, of course I don’t need to be afraid! You are a third of my height, you weigh a 10th of what I weigh, if you do something I don’t like, I merely have to pick you up to stop you doing it – why on earth would I be afraid?

But the shepherds were afraid. The messengers of God inspire awe and the glory of God is both fearful and wonderful.

I wonder what feelings Christmas has brought for you this year?

- Awe and wonder? Stress and worry? Joy and peace?

I wonder as we think on angels and wise men, a baby and a star what comes into our minds?

- A time for over-indulgence of ourselves and our small relatives?
- A time for extra church services and a reorienting of our prayer life?
- A time for hope?

Let’s just stand for one moment today and allow ourselves to feel what we would have felt had an angel stood before us, and we, with no knowledge of how the story was to unfold, felt the glory of God around us.

God bless, Vicci

Stanley Spencer Gallery – Winter Gallery Tours

The Stanley Spencer Gallery invites you to join one of our three special winter Gallery tours on a day when the Gallery is closed to the public. These guided tours are usually only available to larger groups, but you can book individually for these events.

These tours will give you a unique opportunity to see a rare and captivating site: Christ Preaching at Cookham Regatta, Stanley Spencer’s monumental unfinished painting, brought down from its high perch for the first time in decades. It will go back to its high perch at the end of March, so now is the time to visit!

As an unfinished work, Christ Preaching at Cookham Regatta is a unique window into Spencer’s practice. You will see how he filled in the composition section by section, a method he learned at the Slade School of Fine art.

Your guided tour will start with a short description of Stanley Spencer’s life and then go around the exhibition, showing Spencer’s artistic journey through his life, and for individual works and major projects.

These Gallery tours are at 11.00am on December 8th, January 12th and February 9th, and cost £15, (excluding booking fee). You will need to book in advance through Eventbrite as numbers are limited. Please see the links below.

The tour will last about an hour, so perhaps the opportunity for a restaurant or pub lunch afterwards!

Cookham Community Allotment

We are constantly being advised in the daily press to follow certain steps and the result will be a fitter/longer-living/better-balanced/less-tired/happier individual etc etc. After one such article on 'the guide to super-ageing' in the i paper recently, one reader's response was quite emphatic. As a septuagenarian married over 50 years, who never needs to visit their doctor, he gave this simple piece of advice. "Rent an allotment within walking distance from home and garden organically. With a rental of less than £1 per week, the produce alone more than covers this." Indeed, fresh air, eating more vegetables, getting regular exercise, and being flexible in thinking are all benefits of growing your own and enjoying your own outdoor space with the option for social interaction should you need it.

Rent an allotment? At this time of year? It may not have as much appeal as during some balmy days in spring. However, now is in fact a very good time to take on an allotment. There are vacancies on all three sites in Cookham! Very little grows at this time of year, so nor do the weeds. By putting down weed suppressant membrane or cardboard, the beds can be left during the next couple of months. No double digging is necessary, especially if you follow the current thinking for 'no dig'. Order or have delivered organic matter such as manure, much of which may be available for free in this area. Let the earthworms do the work and your soil structure will benefit. Now is the perfect time to build yourself at least a couple of compost bays using wooden pallets, also available for free. Here you can put in a bottom layer of rough grass and sticks before grass cuttings and annual weeds are readily available to add. Leaves can be raked up now and stored in a chicken-wire cage easily erected in a corner. These will rot down and give you a good, free soil-improver for the following years. Shorter days give you time to plan what you hope to grow where, to make a list, and order seeds. By the time the days are getting longer and hopefully warming up you will be ready to start sowing and growing. For less than £1 per week (how much is that gym membership?) you can tick all the boxes to ensure a longer, healthier happier life, and who knows.... you might enjoy it too!

If you would like to join us before taking the plunge and taking on your own allotment, I guarantee you will learn something, have your questions answered, share in tasty produce and refreshments at end of gardening sessions.

For more information contact Becky Pinniger on 07821710204

Sessions are Tuesday and Saturday mornings on the Alfred Major allotment site 10.00-11.30

Apply to the parish office next to Cookham Rise School if you are interested in taking on an allotment.

Gardening sessions are temporarily halted during December and January. Our last Saturday session will be December 6th, Tuesday session will be December 9th. During January there will be a couple of indoor sessions for cleaning and sharpening tools, making soup, sowing sweet peas etc.

Please contact Becky Pinniger for more information in January on 07821 710204

COOKHAM VOLUNTARY SERVICES

A chance to take part in a key local community service! CVS is a local self-funding community organisation, which provides an essential role taking people who need help with transport to get to medical appointments. We depend entirely on volunteers to meet the needs of members of the community.

Due to retirements and movements out of the area, we are still short of volunteers. If you live locally and have some spare time available, can you help?

We need volunteers in two areas: -

1. In the office at Elizabeth House 2-3 hours, one morning a week, to take requests for transport.
2. Drivers - we pay mileage rate and cover parking and other charges on trips to hospitals, usually local.

If you think you might be able to help, please contact the CVS office on 01628 523839 (10-12.00 Monday-Friday), or at pefc@tapestryoflife.co.uk, for further details.

Dial 01628

The big digital phone revolution is starting. Everyone will shortly need to transfer their existing BT landline connections to the new digital network. And some lines are already about to switch.

Amongst the first local organisations to go digital will be Cookham Voluntary Services and Elizabeth House.

In both cases the phone numbers will not change, but you will have to dial the full number, including the 01628 area code, even if you are dialing from another 01628 number.

So, make sure you make a note of this and if you are not already doing so start using the full 01628 number now. Rest assured, it will work even before the switchover.

For CVS the number to dial is 01628 523839.

For Elizabeth House dial is 01628 527621.

Cookham Parish Council

As a result of Neighbourhood Plan, the Parish now will receive 25% of the Community Infrastructure Levy ("CIL") payable by developers on new housing developments in the Parish. Paragraph 9.4 of the Plan explained that: "Ideas for the spending of CIL receipts on projects in the Parish include, but are not limited to, those identified in Appendix 8 of the Neighbourhood Plan." The Parish Council can add to these Projects.

The 12 Projects in the original Appendix 8 range from improvements to green spaces and air quality to new walking and cycling routes. The Parish Council is now consulting on the addition of a new Project. This is to enlarge and enhance the Parish Cemetery and Chapel on Long Lane.

The Parish has outgrown the original cemetery, founded in 1906. The 1995 extension is already in use. With new housing planned for the Parish demand is likely to grow. The fullness of Holy Trinity and near-fullness of St John's Church cemeteries means that the Parish Cemetery is the primary remaining burial ground in the Parish. The Parish Council therefore feels that the cemetery needs to be enlarged. (A cemetery is acceptable green belt use since the land remains green and open.)

The Chapel is also over 100 years old: sadly, it shows it. It is draughty with little heating and generally needs an overhaul. There is no lavatory. There is no car park: mourners have to park in Long Lane, awkward for residents and potentially dangerous. It needs upgrading.

The full proposal can be found on the Parish Council website at www.cookham-pc.gov.uk. Comments can be emailed to office@cookham-pc.gov.uk or posted to the Council Office in High Road. There will be an open house from 10am – 3pm and a public meeting at 7pm on Wednesday 17 December, both in the Community Room there. Consultation is open until 5pm on Monday 20 December.

We are working to beautify the Parish. 400 bulbs are being planted by Councillors and volunteers in the Alfred Major Recreation Ground (where the order for a large new bin by the skate-ramp has now been placed) and elsewhere. We hope our daffodils will brighten spring.

Boringly but we hope wisely, we have adopted a new IT policy, updated our risk management policy, put in place a new half-yearly internal audit and attended to some trees over-hanging our neighbours in Groves Way. We are continuing our internal updating programme.

We have started the budget process for the 2026/7 financial year. RBWM's own budget cycle means that we have to decide our precept by mid-January. There will therefore be a budget update at Council on 2 December with the final decisions on 6 January.

It is good to report that the Environment Agency has completed erecting a reasonably good-looking and sensibly sized fence on the south-west wing wall of the weir as we agreed. Now we await, and will if necessary push for, the re-opening of the bridge across the weir to the footpath and the Lock.

Finally, we have created a new Planning Working Party. The Borough is about to start the process of updating the Borough Local Plan. We need to be organised and ready to fight for Cookham. We are likely also to want to update

SaveEnergy
A fairer way to decarbonise

Left cold by rising bills and a hard-to-heat home?

Welcome to winter, when dark evenings make us look forward to putting the heating on. But if you're concerned about rising bills or keeping warm, there are some simple things that will make a difference immediately.

At SaveEnergy we offer free energy advice, and our first suggestion is always 'don't heat empty rooms'. Turn radiators off and keep doors to unused rooms shut so they don't gather condensation. Check your boiler and set it at 60 degrees, any hotter and you're wasting energy; and check your heating thermostat. Usually 20 degrees during the day and 15.5 degrees at night is warm enough, unless you have vulnerable people at home. We think this season is what jumpers and fluffy slipper-socks were invented for, so enjoy your woollies or consider buying a heated blanket to stay warm without cranking the heating up. Once you're cosy, don't let the warmth escape. Draw your curtains and line them if you can, and check for draughts. A simple plastic draught excluder strip for windows and doors can make a big difference.

Finally, if there are areas of your house that never warm up or draughts you can't beat, book our Energy Advice Plus service, which includes low-cost simple practical measures to keep to cosy, or a Triple-A Energy Assessment to identify issues, including where you have insulation (and where you don't) or where thermal bridges are conducting all your lovely heat into the garden.

SaveEnergy is a local, community-owned business working across Maidenhead, Cookham and surrounding areas, offering free energy advice for all plus paid for home energy surveys and EPCs.

For more information visit <https://saveenergy.coop>; email info@saveenergy.coop, call us on 01628 947077.

We'll be at the Cookham Smart Energy Show on 7th Feb.

SMART ENERGY SHOW 2026 – 7th February

Helping make Cookham a greener, healthier place to live
This Show, following the success of the previous one, will give villagers an opportunity to meet and talk to some accredited local companies and installers. There will be experts who can advise on how to make your home more energy efficient, and how to incorporate smart energy solutions. In addition, Cookhams Footprint team of volunteers will be there to help guide you, including Toby Knight, a Building Surveyor and retrofit expert, who will be there to offer free impartial advice.

Smart Energy could cut bills, improve comfort and help tackle climate change.

Visit the show to discover:

- What grants are available.
- Whether your roof is suitable for solar panels.
- More about Air Source Heat pumps and talk to others who have them.
- Whether your house is suitable for cavity wall insulation.
- How Hybrid Systems work.
- More about Battery Storage options.
- More about EV (electric vehicle) chargers.
- Where to get an EPC (Energy Performance Certificate).
- How to get free help in making your home less cold & draughty.
- How to get free thermal images of your home.

Throughout the afternoon there will be talks covering topics such as Solar PVs and batteries, Air Source Heat pumps, as well as talks by WildCookham on how important it is to encourage wildlife into our gardens. Peter Gibbs, meteorologist and broadcaster, will start the talks explaining his enthusiasm for these technologies.

Holy Trinity School

For many people Christmas is a special time of year; in a school the run up to the end of the Autumn Term and all that that brings is particularly magical. There is nothing more exciting than rehearsing the Nativity, planning parties, putting up the Christmas tree, designing cards and enjoying a Christmas lunch. It is a time of coming together, celebrating all that is good in the world and appreciating the people around us.

Our school ethos is firmly rooted in friendship and respect; not a day goes by without us celebrating the gentleness and thoughtfulness someone has shown another. This level of kindness, however, extends beyond the school walls and is far reaching.

Remembrance Day gives us all an opportunity to think about those who have made enormous sacrifices serving their country. The children understand this and all play their part in creating a very special moment when we go to the War Memorial in the village to pay our respects. Perhaps you were present on Tuesday 11th November when our Year 6 pupils led everyone in our annual service of remembrance. Poems were read, prayers were spoken and the significance of the day was shared. A two minutes silence was marked before a poppy was laid and a song, reminding us of those who have fallen, rang out.

Children in Need, also in November, gave us another opportunity to come together and live out our vision. As was the case when we raised money for Macmillan Cancer Support and the Royal British Legion, and collected groceries for FoodShare, the generosity of all was felt.

This year, on the run up to Christmas, another project which everyone got behind was the shoe box appeal organised by Blythswood. Last year the charity sent over 85,000 shoeboxes to eight different countries – Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Kosovo, Moldova, Romania, Serbia and Ukraine and since their first Shoe Box Appeal in 1993 they have sent more than 2.8 million boxes – each one different, each one personal, each one an expression of care and kindness towards a stranger in need. Having heard about the project from Jill Cruse and then spoken about it in assembly, it wasn't long before the gifts started appearing. In total we collected fifty-six shoe boxes which we hope will bring warmth and joy to others this Christmas.

Christmas is a time to celebrate, to bring people together and to share in everything that is good in the world. Let's hope that by promoting the importance of service, whether it's at Christmas or any other time in the year, acts of kindness, friendship and compassion will prevail.

From everyone at Holy Trinity C of E Primary, we wish you a wonderful Christmas full of peace, joy and love.

Anna Smith, Head Teacher

Cookham Dean School

Half term holidays have been and gone and we are now certainly in the lead up to Christmas.

Last week was anti-bullying week with a theme of Power of Good. We asked the children to make a difference; to think about others and stand up for what they think is right. It was a thought provoking week when we asked the children to join together to make our world a better place.

Children and staff have already starting asking about Christmas – but one little girl was adamant that we shouldn't be talking about Christmas until 1st December. I agree but in a primary school that is hard to do! Christingle practises, nativity practises, carol service practises, costumes, nativity scenes and Santa's appearance to name but a few. Please note that any member of our community is invited to our many festivities – just look on the school website calendar for dates and times.

It is such a special time in a primary school with the excitement and busyness that comes with Christmas.

We are very much engaged with our seasonal Families@4 services run by the children. Sunday 30th November found the children making Christingles, singing and finding out all about the Christingle's meaning and all run by our fabulous Pupils 4 Praise.

On Christmas Eve at 4pm there will be the Crib Service in St John's - please do join us for our festivities.

Fenella Reekie
Head Teacher

Help a family in poverty this year

CAP (Christians Against Poverty) has launched its 2025 Christmas Appeal, to provide emergency aid and support to UK families in financial hardship this winter.

The appeal aims to raise funds to provide essential assistance such as: emergency food parcels, fuel top-ups, free professional debt advice, and Christmas hampers or gifts, given in partnership with local churches and community groups.

CAP works with local church partners to deliver face-to-face help and support. You can donate directly or support local church initiatives creating Christmas hampers and providing emergency packages.

Cookham Saint-Benoit Twinning

Twenty-two people from Cookham Twinning went to Saint-Benoit at the end of October for a long weekend with our twinned village. We stayed with local families and improved our knowledge of local French life, as well as our language skills, whatever our starting level.

The visit started with a reception at the Mairie (Town Hall) hosted by the Mayor of Saint-Benoit, Bernard Peterlongo. Cookham gave Saint-Benoit a copy of the Cookham Neighbourhood plan, an illustrated guide to the Thames Valley, and a photo-book of last year's visit of Saint-Benoit to Cookham. After some short speeches, Liliane Louvel, a Professor at Poitiers University spoke about the book that she is publishing about Stanley Spencer, so another link with Cookham. This will be the first book published in the French language about Stanley Spencer.

We toured the town hall building and noted the framed picture of Cookham that the Mayor keeps in his office. The council meeting room was suitably grand and can accommodate the 29 councillors that meet there.

On Sunday lunch was at the lovely Villa Gambetta Italian restaurant. Sadly just a week later the building suffered a major fire with significant damage, but no injuries.

On Monday the group went to Tours with a walking tour and a visit to the 'Musée du Compagnonnage', (Master Craftsman Museum). This is a unique French institution showing the work of specialist artisans who must pass rigorous tests to be accepted into the guild. Displays were of woodworking, leather, stone, leather and textiles.

As always, we were very well looked after, with good opportunities to sample French cuisine. Saint-Benoit will be visiting Cookham next October, and it's a great opportunity to hear about French culture, and perhaps improve your French GCSE skills!

Cookham Dean WI

Meeting on Thursday November 13th, 2025

Our President opened the meeting, giving a brief report on WI matters and absent members.

Instead of a speaker this month we had a return visit from Maria Petrinc. Maria has visited us twice before when we made fabric dolls and painted sunflowers. We wondered what she had in store for us this time! Maria is raising funds for her native Ukraine, still in the grips of war with Russia.

Maria is raising funds in support of children in the Ukraine who have lost their families due to this war. We were challenged to make a Christmas Angel, which looked like this when completed (with quite a lot of help!):

New members are always assured of a warm and friendly welcome. We meet at 2pm on the second Thursday of every month in the WI hall.

Our next meeting will be on Thursday December 11th, 2025 at 2pm.

Lorna Sykes

Epilogue

A Prayer for Christmas ...

Dear Father,

Christmas is coming. It's all such a rush – planning, shopping, spending, wrapping, posting, stressing! What's it all about?

Lord, help us, in all the rat-race busyness, to make time to focus on that baby at the centre of it all. That baby who is Your Son, who was with You in the beginning and who, with You, created all things; that baby who brings life and light and hope and salvation; that baby who was and is Jesus, God, made man.

Lord, we thank You for that baby-gift to us – the greatest gift there has ever been. Thank You that because He came, grew up, lived, died and rose again, there is light in the darkness of this world's mess – light that can never be put out, that evil can never overcome.

Jesus is the Light of the World. Putting our trust in Him, we thank You Lord, for Christmas – for Your grace and love for us. In Jesus' name. Amen.

And John Wesley's New Year's Resolution...

Do all the good you can
By all the means you can
In all the ways you can
In all the places you can
At all the times you can
To all the people you can
As long as ever you can
